

Hamiltonian formulation for wave-current interactions in stratified rotational flows

Calin Martin

Faculty of Mathematics, University of Vienna, Austria calin.martin@univie.ac.at

Abstract

We show that the Hamiltonian framework permits an elegant formulation of the nonlinear governing equations for the coupling between internal and surface waves in stratified water flows with piecewise constant vorticity. This is joint work with Adrian Constantin (University of Vienna) and Rossen Ivanov (Dublin Institute of Technology).